

SCCA Licensing Accreditation:

Step one: Attend an accredited SCCA Licensing school and apply for your novice license.

Successful completion of the school satisfies the SCCA driver's school requirement to obtain a SCCA Novice Permit License. You may enter any SCCA Regional event with a Novice Permit License.

Step two: Work towards the next level of licensing, a FULL Competition Racing License.

A FULL Competition Racing License is required to enter SCCA Majors and Super Tour Events. Three SCCA sanctioned regional race event weekends on a Novice Permit License will allow you to apply for a Full Competition Racing License.

See below how more days with Pro Drive will quickly get you to a FULL Competition Racing License:

SCCA Accreditation Licensing levels with Pro Drive Racing School:

- 1-Day Racing School (Standard Accreditation)
Graduates receive credit for 1 SCCA school on their SCCA Novice Permit License.
 - you may enter any SCCA Regional event. After completing three SCCA regional event weekends you may apply for your FULL competition racing license
- 2-Day Racing School (Standard PLUS Accreditation)
Graduates receive credit for 1 SCCA school and 1 SCCA sanctioned regional race event weekend on their SCCA Novice Permit License.
 - you may enter any SCCA Regional event. After completing two SCCA regional event weekends you may apply for your FULL competition racing license
- 3-Day Racing School (Advanced Accreditation)
Graduates receive credit for 1 SCCA school and 2 SCCA sanctioned regional race event weekend on their SCCA Novice Permit License.
 - you may enter any SCCA Regional event. After completing one SCCA regional event weekend you may apply for your FULL competition racing license

Steps to apply for an SCCA License

1. Join SCCA. Become a member by going to www.scca.com and clicking on the "Join SCCA" button.
2. Apply for your Novice Permit. Follow the licensing steps at: Sports Car Club of America \(scca.com\)
3. Register for your race. When you are ready to enter your first SCCA Regional Race, please register at: www.oregonscca.motorsportreg.com
 - a. Bring your Novice Permit along with a passport photo to your event. The Novice Permit will need to be filled out by the driving school as well as an SCCA Steward
4. Is your car track ready?
 - a. Make sure your car meets all the requirements for SCCA. You can look up the requirements in the SCCA General Competition Rule Book (GCR): <http://www.scca.com/downloads> Click on the most recent Updated Rule

Book. Most importantly, make sure your car meets the safety requirements listed in Section 9 of the GCR. You may also contact Tim Scott, SCCA Tech Official at 360.430.7577.

- b. Have your car tech'd for competition. Tech is typically open the afternoon before the first day of an Oregon Region event or by 7am the morning of.
- 5. Purchase all the required drivers gear:
 - a. Helmet with Snell sticker SA2015 or later, one-piece drivers suit that effectively cover the body from the neck to the ankles and wrists. All suits shall bear an SFI 3.2A/1 or higher certification label. Underwear of fire resistant material shall be used, unless you have a SFI 3-2A/5 or higher drivers suit. Gloves, socks made of fire resistant material, driving shoes and neck restraint.
 - b. Refer to GCR 9.3.20...
Where to purchase gear: Order online or over the phone. Mention Pro Drive and receive a discount. There are also many ecommerce sites.
 - i. Zamp.com or local rep, Ronnie Swyers at 503.799.3555

Questions: please contact Kristen Moore at prodrive@prodrive.net